Reference: Petition to Accept Unintentionally Delayed Payment of Maintenance Fee in an Expired Patent (37 CFR 1.378 (c)) Patent No. 6,227,456 Application No. 09512096

To: Director of the Office of Petitions

I am very concerned about the series of events that has lead me to petition you to accept this unintentionally delayed payment of the maintenance fee for the expired patent no. 6,227,456. On November 3, 2008, I was admitted to Manatee Memorial Hospital with a blood clot in my leg and a very serious infection in my foot. The doctor placed three stents in my leg and I was released on November 11, 2008. I was home for only three days and was readmitted to the hospital on November 15, 2008 because of complications with the blood flow through the stents in my leg. While in the hospital I almost died from a severe allergic reaction to heparin the blood thinner used in both operations to the same leg. Because of these complications I remained in the hospital until December 7, 2008. I am recovering very slowly and have experienced trouble in my concentration as a result of the prescription medication I am taking. Under my doctor's supervision, I have been monitored and I have had test done every 4 weeks since I left the hospital. As of November 2008, my wife has taken over the small business I started in 1997, since my poor health has restricted my work abilities. On September 29, 2010, she did a patent search for the maintenance fee schedule for my four patents to know when to pay the maintenance fees and she discovered that patent no. 6,227,456 had expired. My medical condition had clouded my memory and I did not realize that I had missed this payment. All of my patent correspondence is sent to my patent attorney's address as a back up reminder for the maintenance payment fee schedule. The attorney has been very helpful in the past to remind me of these maintenance payment fee dates. This time the attorney did not give me any reminder and the back up plan I had in place failed. I do not blame my attorney I am attributing this oversight to the medical hardship that I have experienced and I am now learning to live with. I respectfully request that you consider this expired patent no. 6,227,456 for reinstatement. From the beginning, this invention was test marketed and produced on a small scale with a favorable response from the consumers who purchased it at home shows and on our website. Four product molds were created for the invention. One set of molds failed to produce the product line, as a result a second set of molds were manufactured to produce the product line sold on our company website. The company has a registered Trademark name S Shower Twin® for the invention. I intend to produce another mold to develop the other half of the invention. This invention shows growth potential into the mainstream marketplace because of repeat customer loyalty and the ease of consumer installation. I have invested my time and all of my financial worth to develop this invention with the hope that it will be produced on a large scale commercial offering to the consumer. I understand how important this invention is and I will treat the future of this reinstated patent with great respect. Thank you, in advance for your attention to this matter.

Sincerely,

Peter Ingalls Colman
